Foreword

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. The second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

—Matthew 22: 37, 39

School days are the last of a dependence for survival upon your family. Now comes making your own place in the world. To help you, the staff has chosen love as the 1956 First Lady theme.

Love and its opposite are like two horses, one pure white, the other black as coal, running a race. Each person chooses his own winner. He can "fix" the race through everyday living.

Real love should be your constant companion. It gives you strength if illness strikes, and courage through loss of a close friend. If you see things through loving eyes, you have sympathy for the selfish, the shiftless, and the persons with no courtesy.

Love is not always a feeling for the opposite sex. From the cradle, those fortunate enough have loved and been loved. But too few let it progress further than childhood. Love begins in the home, out of respect and admiration.

Try to love your work and find satisfaction in chores. Be glad that you have a place in the world. It is better to have too much work than none at all.

Begin each day with the thought "love thy neighbor as thyself." This is a great statement from the heart of everyone's friend, Christ Jesus.

What could be more lovable than the puppy which will show you through the 1956 First Lady.

Miss Wooden and Barbara Storer seem amused at this layout.

To The Class of 1956

Greetings!

Love is ever the beginning of knowledge as fire is of light.

Music is well said to be the speech of angels.

Few people experience such love as is talked of here without effort. It has to grow and develop just as a rose (in a field of understanding). It means consideration for a neighbor's viewpoint; tolerance for father and mother when disagreement arises; an effort to get along with fellow workers whether liked or not.

Over the years the spirit of love has grown. Today we have more tolerance for strange peoples. There have been islands of agreement worked out between generations. Factions of society are learning to sit down at the conference table and settle differences without strife.

If each graduate of 1956 has developed this element of love, co-operation, tolerance, she need have no fear. It is a perfect companion for the skill she has acquired. In fact it is "the better half" of the partnership.

Good love and good luck.

ETHEL WOODEN

Dedication

The class of 1956 lovingly dedicates their First Lady to Miss Garnet Thompson.

In an ungraded country school near Findlay, Miss Thompson started her education. To enter high school one had to pass the Boxwell test, given at the county seat. This was followed by a college preparatory course at Findlay Academy.

Miss Thompson graduated from Findlay College with a Bachelor of Arts Degree and Otterbein College with a Master of Arts Degree. She did post graduate work at the universities of Columbia, New York, Chicago, Toledo, and Ohio State. Her teaching career took her to North Baltimore, Wapakoneta, and Marion in Ohio; Richmond and Elkhart in Indiana.

Endearing love for and devotion to her mother and father have been exemplified by Miss Thompson in the beauty of the hundreds of colorful tulips which enhance the portals of her church. Each year they serve as a living tribute to her parent's memory.

Her hobbies are many and varied. Spare time is partly occupied with an interest in period furniture and antiques. Traveling in the United States and Canada has been extensive.

During a year at Rike's, Dayton, Miss Thompson was promoted from salesperson to teaching salesmanship. This was partially due to her wonderful spirit of cooperation, and the kind and helpful attitude she expresses. Miss Thompson is always ready to do her part in any project.

Toledo welcomed her in 1924. She taught continuation classes at old Woodward High School. When the new Woodward was built, Miss Thompson remained at the old building. She started a retail selling class with one student, Joe Bristoll. Joe brought in six friends. The numbers grew so that when Macomber was started and the boys moved, one hundred-sixty girls were left with no place to go. Parents, the American Federation of Teachers, and women teachers in the vocational field worked tirelessly until they gained enough power and government help to build a girl's school. Miss Thompson has shown both sympathy and understanding for the younger generation. Through her thought of others, she established the Memorial Book Shelf in Whitney's library to commemorate the memory of the dear deceased of faculty and friends.

Thus, Whitney was born. Work, tears, and sweat make Whitney what it is—it didn't just grow like Topsy. We honor Miss Thompson as one of the pioneers.

Senior History

For the past twelve years, the graduates of '56 have worked with others to prove their ability to cooperate. They have served their community, including schools, as well as themselves. They deserve the title, seniors. Years at Whitney have been difficult but fun. Each student has had responsibilities in different activities.

In the sophomore year, every girl looked forward to her future at Whitney. She began to establish herself and become acquainted with the faculty. Mrs. Marilyn Fleming Stimpfle became a member of the faculty that year. Sophomores sponsored the Hobo Hop which everyone enjoyed. Shop meetings were held at Macomber; this helped girls develop poise and leadership. Of course, everyone participated in the annual Christmas party. Other new experiences for the underclassmen included Whitney Day, campaigning for next year's Junior Class officers. Yes, the first year at Whitney proved to be exciting.

When the girls returned in September, 1954, they had another busy year ahead. Many began working after school preparing for their co-op jobs as seniors. The treasury needed replenishing so the group sponsored a candy sale. The success of Junior-Senior Day created a feeling of achievement. Student Council gave a dance, the Cornstalk Shuffle. The prom committee was busily arranging for the big dance which occurs near the end of the school term. Soft Lights and Silhouettes, held May 7, 1955, proved a big success.

A senior is more reliable than ever before. Other students look to them as examples. The majority began co-op jobs. Plans for the senior trip and prom were formulated. Shops sponsored employer's luncheons. Senior forums proved a very interesting and beneficial feature. Commencement day brings tense excitement to each girl. When she receives her diploma, she realizes so much more the feeling of real love and that each day at Whitney was well spent.

JUNIORS

Junior Class Officers

Toni Rizk—Treasurer; Elena McGee—Member at large; Margie Nowak—Sergeant at Arms; Jackie Clower—Member at large; Barbara Welch—Vice President; Rhoda Perry—President; Joyce Genung—Secretary.

Junior History

The junior year started with the excitement of rings; it was almost overwhelming. Mr. Cook, representative of the jewelry company, was thoughtful and kind. His fine service is the result of many past years contact with previous junior classes. He delivered rings just before Christmas.

The junior council (the class officers) met each month with the class adviser, Miss Dorothy Weir. They planned the year's activities. Before the beginning of 1956 there were two events: first, a get-acquainted dance for the entire class during an activity period and, second, an evening dance for juniors and sophomores. The latter was even more successful than expected.

In the spring came Junior-Senior Day with the class of '57 as hostesses. This event was dignified fun for both groups. In May, the regular school election was held. Sophomores and juniors vote for their chosen candidates for class officers of the coming year. The campaign is filled with good humor and the results are eagerly anticipated, sometimes feared. The winners assume responsibility as well as honor. These officers never forget to act in the interest of the whole class and try not to let personal preferences guide them.

The climax of the year is the Junior-Senior Prom. Everyone, even those who do not attend, is filled with excitement. Juniors share the spot-light with seniors. That evening is never forgotten with its shining array of color and movement. The Prom Committee worked diligently and enthusiastically for months to make this the gala occasion of school year. When it is over, they are rewarded with a deeply satisfying feeling of accomplishment and vivid memory.

Being a junior is important. It's the beginning of a plateau in life. It is the threshold of adulthood. Although still lower classmen in school, each girl knows she is going ahead, that it won't be long before she will be a senior. As freshmen in other schools, every girl made the decision to enroll at Whitney; that decision is the root. In the junior year, students begin to find themselves in activities of the school, even in after-school jobs. When a girl becomes a senior, she gives a very definite promise of what she will be as an adult.

Sophomore Council

Sophomores in September are a confused but brave group of teenagers at Whitney. They have made a decision to further their education in a co-op school which offers every possible advantage to a growing adolescent. Their first assembly in Macomber auditorium provides an opportunity to meet faculty and obtain hints about what the next three years will mean.

In October the Hobo Hop occurred, a fine dance sponsored by the juniors with skits, pop, hot dogs, dancing, noise. Grade cards were received with mixed emotions in November. On November 11, they sponsored a mixer for the whole sophomore class in the gym during the morning activity period. The school Christmas party was a real thrill for everyone.

When February approached with Whitney's birthday, sophomores learned school history. In May they participated in a campaign and election of officers for school year 1956-57. They now had a better understanding of vocational education and Whitney, also enjoyed great fun of achievement. Advisers, Mrs. Marian Vietmeier and Mrs. Alvina Littlefield appreciated the opportunity to help these up-and-comings begin their careers.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America is a national organization of students studying distributive education in high schools and junior colleges in the United States and territories. Student participation in local, state, and national clubs provides an opportunity for the further development of experience of boys and girls who have vocational objectives in the retail, wholesale, and service occupations. As such, the club work is an integral part of the in-school distributive education program.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America is a student organization made up of affiliated state Distributive Education Clubs. State clubs in turn are made up of local clubs whose members are enrolled in distributive education classes in the various high schools in the state.

Local chapters were started in 1937. By 1945, Ohio and other states had organized state clubs and were holding state wide conventions. Whitney distributive education students at that early date were already shaping D.E.C.A. policy in Columbus. They have attended all state conventions since.

The first national convention in Memphis, Tennessee, in April 1947, was attended by two Whitneyites.

Because of the cooperative school work program, Whitney has two local chapters of D.E.C.A., Sections I and II.

Loris
So a small girl
with a wonderful personality
Good Luck
Barb Colyer
1957

To Doris,
 Since getting to know you better this year I've found that you are really
 a lot of fun.
 Good luck
 in whatever you wish to accomplish.
 May success
 follow you always!
 Ida Barlett

To Doris,
 I hope you will have a great year in O.P. 11 B.
 I hope you will

To a wonderful girl
who has been in a lot
of my classes this year.
Donna Belle Kelley
O.P. 11 A

Well, be seeing you again sometime. Who knows?

To Doris,
A real nice girl. And I really mean it. I've had a real lot of fun
with you this year.

To Doris,
I have been swell
knowing you. When you leave a witness
in '57 may there
be a wonderful future
on the road ahead.
